RAJAGIRI COLLEGE OF SOCIAL SCIENCES (Autonomous)

Rajagiri College of Social Sciences (Autonomous), (RCSS), is the eldest child of Vidyapeetham. It is located on two picturesque campuses- the Hill Campus at Kalamassery and the Valley campus at Kakkanad in Kochi, Kerala. RAJAGIRI literally means “The Hill of the King” and derivatively it refers to the hillock, where Jesus Christ is accepted as the King or the Model, as the human embodiment of the virtues of love, truth and justice.

RCSS is the fruit of the vision that propelled CMIs of the Sacred Heart Province, Kochi, to establish a center of excellence in the field of higher education and a standard bearer of holistic learning in India, which would provide training for future leaders in the fields of both social and industrial development. The specific purpose is to facilitate the growth of individuals into people who can combine the efficiency and exactness of Social Sciences and Management Sciences with the social commitment.

Rajagiri has made its maxim “Nothing short of perfection, excellence the Benchmark”. RAJAGIRI strives for excellence in knowledge and application, both in the fields of Social Sciences and Management Studies. “Learn, Serve, Excel”: with this threefold formula, Rajagiri has taken upon itself the task of the formation of those who EXCEL, who are equipped to SERVE the rapidly changing world by means of what they study and LEARN here, making their lives an ever continuing process of learning. In the five decades of its existence, since its seminal origin in 1955, RCSS has emerged as the premier institution imparting training in Management and Social Sciences in the state, and has carved a niche for itself in this highly competitive era.

1. ATTENDANCE

Rajagiri College of Social Sciences (Autonomous) considers student attendance an essential component of a student's performance in a course. It is mandatory for all the students to maintain 100% attendance in class sessions. Absence from classroom sessions and from other academic activities will be regarded as an act of willful indiscipline. No leave will be granted for absence beyond 25% in ordinary circumstances.

Guidelines:

- Attendance is marked for each session engaged by the faculty member. This means that irrespective of the number of hours engaged, attendance will be taken only once for each continuous session.
- Students are required to check fedena within two days after each class to verify their attendance marking. Any discrepancy should be reported to the concerned faculty within 2 working days.
- In the case of two hour classes if the student is late for the first hour, he/she will be permitted to attend the first hour without attendance and attendance will be awarded only for the second hour onwards.
- A student is not permitted to leave an on-going class, unless a note is sent from the Principal.
- For the internal assessment process, attendance will be calculated on hourly basis unless otherwise instructed by the faculty member.
- In case the faculty member engages more than 60 hours, the first 60 hours only shall be accounted for marks/percentage of attendance.
- Students will not be allowed to enter the classroom after a faculty member has entered. There is no possibility of late coming.
- Students are not allowed to spend time with any other faculty member during normal class hours unless prior explicit permission has been obtained from the faculty member who is engaging the session at that time. The responsibility is vested with the student and excuses for being late will not be entertained.
- Any planned mass absences of a group/ class/ batch of students will result in serious consequences. Those who lead/ participate in such activities, be it from a scheduled class or training activity or an institutional function, will incur serious action.
- A student must intimate the College office in the case of any serious illness or hospitalisation as soon as possible from the date of diagnosis or hospitalisation.
- A student must submit a medical certificate and a letter from the parent/ guardian to the college office, if his/her absence on account of ill health exceeds five consecutive working days.
- This certificate and letter should be submitted by the student within two days of reporting back to the college after the absence.
- However, this certificate will not be considered for marks of attendance or any other consideration from the part of the college.
- This will render the students eligible to apply for condonation when they have shortage of attendance, ie. Attendance below 75%.

- Girl Students can avail an additional condonation 2% attendance, as per the parent university regulation.
- No student shall be allowed to produce a predated medical certificate other than the ones already submitted in the College office for availing condonation.

[This certificate may be collected by the student from the college office in the case of applying for condonation]

The respective internal mark for attendance will be distributed proportionately between 75% and 100% attendance.

The method of calculation of marks for students who have secured more than 75% attendance is as follows:

Step 1 - Calculate the percentage of presence for each student (no. of hours present ÷ no. of hours taken) x 100

Step 2 - Subtract 75 from the value obtained in Step 1 (as 75 % is the minimum requirement)

Step 3 - Divide the value obtained in Step 2 by 25. Subsequently multiply this value with the total marks assigned for attendance.

The value obtained after Step 3 gives the proportionate mark for attendance of each student.

The mark shall be zero if a student's attendance is less than or equal to 75%.

- A student who has attendance shortage may enquire with the Examination office regarding rules and procedure for condonation.

8. NETIQUETTES

Start into online sessions with a mind-set of cautious learning. Learn how to be on your best behavior in an online classroom with the following netiquette guidelines every online student needs to know.

General Etiquette

You are expected to attend all the online sessions scheduled by the respective teachers. If you are absent from the online class, you need to inform your Batch Faculty Coordinator as well as the teacher handling the session for the day. It is the duty of the student to inform them duly and no student shall take leave without informing the teachers.

Be on time- Punctuality is especially important for online Classes. Check your email regularly for details on the online session schedules.

Choose a good location- a clean and non-distracting background. If possible, set up a desk with materials ready and a neutral background. Use a small, quiet, preferably carpeted room. Large rooms and rooms with tile or hardwood floors can produce an echo. Turn off loud AC units or desk fans. Try to provide a clean, distraction-free background. Make sure you're comfortable with others seeing what is in your background. If you use a laptop, ensure it is placed on a solid surface.

Lighting in the room - The light has to come against you, so use a soft light source placed in front of you. Avoid back and side lighting. (Windows/lights behind you can make it hard to see your face).

Wear proper attire - Make sure you are looking presentable and professional for each other. It is our expectation that students dress in a way that is modest, clean, and avoid any unnecessary distraction.

Be ready to take notes - While teachers may have different instructions in different subjects and scenarios, online meetings aim to condense the time that everyone is present together. So in many cases it will be beneficial for the students to be able to jot down a note on the instructions the teacher is giving or important information he or she is sharing with you.

Give your full, focused attention - Keep away from using another device or engage with someone or something else in your surroundings. Giving eye contact to the screen is a good way to show your instructor that you are attending, unless of course you are taking notes.

Be seated in a room, where you will be able to attend the class without any disturbances.

Don't dominate the discussion - The students should adopt some strategy to make sure they are giving others a chance to discuss.

Sarcasm has been the source of plenty of misguided arguments online. As a rule of thumb, it's best to avoid sarcasm altogether in an online classroom. Be more careful with your words.

A certain level of formality is still expected in your communication with the Teachers. In addition to proper punctuation and spelling, it's good netiquette to use respectful greetings and signatures, full sentences etc.,

Be kind and professional. "Good netiquette means conducting yourself in an online class with the same respect, politeness and professionalism that you would exhibit in a real-life classroom."

Think before you type - A good rule of thumb to follow is if you're comfortable standing up in front of a classroom and saying your message, then it's most likely okay to share.

Keep up with all assignments - Teachers often establish ground rules for file assignment submissions, like naming the files that help them keep things organized or acceptable file formats.

Comply with other instructions provided by the teachers from time to time.

Tech Specific Etiquette

- Test your microphone and camera before the meeting begins. Technical issues are to be expected, but this will allow everyone to get underway sooner.
- Mute your microphone while the classes are going on and the camera must be on throughout the session. (The College has provided all the Students 'Data Scholarship' so that the students do not run out of the required data for the Day)

- Consider your actions on camera. Exaggerated yawning, stretching, or eating are not only distracting, but can come off as rude to the speaker and audience.
- Use a headset if possible. Test your mic before your meeting. Stay close to the mic, but don't lean in to it.
- If you experience issues with video connection, try rebooting your computer. Students having less bandwidth and internet may switch off the video under intimidation to the concerned teacher.
- Encourage use of chat to give feedback/ask questions during presentations. post one word (or a short phrase or question) in chat to summarize what you got from the presentation (or ask follow-up questions)
- Don't abuse the chat box. The class chat box isn't an instant messenger like you'd use with friends. Be aware of strong language, all caps, and exclamation points. Read everything out loud before you send it. Written communication should be professional and reflect proper writing style.
- Use voting (yes/no, polls, reactions) about effectiveness of presentation or some other metric of success.

9. CAMPUS

Relationships

The College, as a policy, promotes healthy relationships among students based on mutual trust and respect built through good communication.

Any relationship would be deemed unhealthy under the following conditions:

- The academic performance of the concerned student is affected negatively,
- The student's relationship becomes exclusive (when other students are excluded),
- When limits of physical proximity are breached.
- If any activity in the course of such a relationship, affects the reputation of the institution.
 - If an unhealthy relationship is brought to the notice of the Batch Coordinator, he/she shall first issue a warning to the concerned persons.
 - For a student who has been warned, if anything relating to unhealthy relationships is repeated, the parents shall be called and informed about the case.

Property

- Students have to take responsibility for the upkeep of the classrooms, classroom furniture, classroom audio-visual equipment, electrical fittings and corridors.
- Any breakage or damage to any property shall be intimated to the College office by the class representatives for repair and maintenance. They must note down the details in the Maintenance Register kept in the office. They must notify the Officer in charge of Classroom infrastructure - if the repair does not take place in time.
 - Any breakage or damage to any property caused by a student will result in restitution (time, money, service) and/or disciplinary actions of a more serious nature, depending on the gravity and circumstances of the offence.
